WILLKIE URGES CABINET POST FOR AVIATION

Most Important Branch Shouldn't Be Neglected, G. O. P. Leader Says.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Wendell Willkie advocated today that a post of aeronautics be added to the President's cabinet because of the importance of the military service and the most important should not be subordinate.

"It would be much better," the Republican presidential nominee said in a press conference, "if we had a member in charge of aviation and aeronautics, and under him men in charge of the three branches of aviation, because I think that it takes some time in the future to create a cabinet member in charge of aeronautics."

His impression is that in our construction and training of our mechanics we are hopelessly unprepared.

If England had a trained pilot equal to that of Germany, we would not be facing her present crisis.

Willkie began work today on his first major campaign address, concentrating on one theme: the need for a new defense policy to show the world that the United States is not a defenseless nation.

The Republican presidential nominee said the speech would make a comparison between the United States in this depression and the United States in the previous depression.

He did not fix the place for the speech.

Willkie held down his appointment for the week-end after round of conferences seeking to coordinate the campaign activities of the Republican national organization, the Willkie-for-President clubs and an independent Democratic group.

Charges WPA Packing
He issued a statement late yesterday that the Roosevelt administration is planning again to pack the (relief) rolls, especially in those states which are politically favorable.

He told reporters that he and Attorney General Robert H. Jackson would ascertain whether the federal 90,000 case in the WPA roster during July involved any violation of the Hatch anti-politics act.

Wyandot Co. Child Fatally Strangled In Wire Fence

Baby, Entangled Trying To Follow Others into Field.

Special to The Star
UPPER SANDUSKY, Aug. 24.—Edward Krawczyk, 22-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Krawczyk of near Wharton was strangled to death in an unusual accident near his parents' farm home yesterday about 4 p. m.

The child was found dead by the father and a nine-year old brother, Donald. The body was hanging on a wire fence about 20 rods from the home. The baby had apparently attempted to follow his father and brother into a field where they had gone to gather corn when it became entangled in the fence.

Caught in Wire
The pair were in the cornfield about 40 minutes and discovered the baby on their return. It apparently started to climb the fence but was caught when it tried to crawl through the wire mesh and was unable to struggle free.

Dr. J. A. Propst, Wyandot county coroner who was called returned a verdict of accidental death by strangulation. The Krawczyks, a Polish family, reside on the farm of Mrs. Krawczyk's father, John Peszko, nine miles west of Upper Sandusky.

Funeral Monday
The child was born Nov. 2, 1938. Surviving are his parents, brother and sister, Mrs. Rose Albanac of Marion, and a number of distant relatives in this vicinity. Funeral services will be held Monday at 9 a. m. at St. Peter's Catholic church in Upper Sandusky and burial will be made in the church cemetery.

The body was removed to the Bringham & Co. funeral home in Upper Sandusky.

DR. J. E. BROWNLEE CLAIMED BY DEATH

Was One of State's Oldest Practicing Veterinarians.

Special to The Star
MARTELL, Aug. 24.—Dr. James Emerson Brownlee, 67, one of the oldest practicing veterinarians in Ohio, died of a heart attack at his home five miles east of Caledonia on Harding Highway yesterday afternoon at 1:45. He had been ill 10 weeks but was able to be about his home.

Dr. Brownlee, the father of Theodore Brownlee, Marion city fireman, was born July 25, 1873 on the same farm where he died. He was the son of James Brownlee of Ohio and Ella Dickson Brownlee, a native of Pennsylvania.

He graduated from the Grand Rapids Veterinary college at Grand Rapids, Mich. in 1910 and immediately set up practice in Gallon. The following year he moved to Caledonia where he lived until 1920 when he moved to his present home.

Dr. Brownlee and his father were among the pioneers of Ohio harness racing. They had a track at their farm and owned and trained horses for a number of years. He discontinued his participation in the sport following the death of his father in 1905.

He is survived by two sons, Theodore of 410 Durfee drive and Harold of Los Angeles, Calif., and two grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday at 2 p. m. with Rev. R. H. Gleason of the Universalist church in charge. Burial will be made in the Iberia cemetery.

200 PHEASANTS RELEASED

State Conservation Department Birds Freed in County

Marion county's wildlife population was enriched yesterday by the distribution of 200 ring-necked pheasants sent here from the state conservation department's hatchery at Urbana. The shipment, received by O. H. Neimeyer of Prospect, state game protector, was the first of the season. Other game birds probably will be sent here next month, Mr. Neimeyer reported.

Arnold Swartz and Alan Shealy who have been assisting Mr. Neimeyer, with the exhibit of the Marion County Fish and Game Protective association at the county fair, distributed the birds. They reported that the pheasants were scattered in various sections of the county.

SAWYER WANTS EMBLEM

HOPKINS QUILTS CABINET POST

Ill Health Forces Resignation; Jesse Jones To Be Offered Job.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Roosevelt today accepted the resignation of Harry L. Hopkins as secretary of commerce and it was announced he would offer the post to Jesse H. Jones, federal loan administrator.

Hopkins told the President by letter that he was quitting the cabinet to recover his health. He has been suffering from a stomach ailment for nearly two years.

The President, in reply, said the resignation would take effect at a date to be determined later. "You may resign the office—only the office—and nothing else," Mr. Roosevelt said. "Our friendship will last and must go on as always."

The resignation will remove from President Roosevelt's official family one of his closest friends and advisers and will add another vacancy to the list of high government offices presently or prospectively unfilled.

Hopkins is reported to have been the position of librarian at the Hyde Park N. Y. library recently built to house the President's papers and book collection and expected to be opened next spring. It was learned definitely that he will not enter business.

He has been in ill health for many months. Able to put in six hours a day at his desk he is known to have felt that a cabinet officer should be capable of working 12 hours or more without a letup. Recently he attended the Democratic convention in Chicago as Mr. Roosevelt's personal representative. Friends said the long hours of activity there were a heavy drain on his resources of energy.

MOTHER HELD AFTER DEATH OF CHILDREN

Two Drowned in Tub at Home in Dayton.

By The Associated Press
DAYTON, O., Aug. 24.—A 30-year-old mother was detained under guard in a hospital here today. Detective Capt. O. L. Kincaid said for investigation into the drowning of her two small children "under mysterious circumstances" in a bathtub at her home.

The victims were Lela Mae, a two-week-old baby and Walter Weyrauch Jr., age 7 years. Their bodies were discovered by Weyrauch Sr., a druggist, when he returned home from work last night.

Directed by a note members of the family found Mrs. Lucille Weyrauch, mother of the children, wandering "in a dazed condition" in a park near their home a short time after the tragedy was discovered. Kincaid reported.

Kincaid disclosed the contents of the note which he said Weyrauch Sr. found on a table in their home, indicating the young mother intended to take her own life and giving a possible explanation of the death of her children. It read: "They'll find me in the water at Island park. I couldn't die and"

DRAFT BILL'S PASSAGE SEEN

Leaders Predict 10-Vote Margin; President's Opposition Weakens Delaying Efforts.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Administration strategists predicted today that the Senate would approve the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill next week by a margin of at least 10 votes and in a form calling for immediate conscription.

These leaders also said a check of their polls, following President Roosevelt's call for speedy enactment of a selective service law that would become effective at once indicated that a substitute bill by Senator McNamara (D-Calif.) to delay the draft until Jan. 1 faced defeat by a margin of from two to four votes.

Give Up Holiday
The Senate gave up its usual Saturday holiday to continue debate on the conscription measure and a final vote on the bill, some time next week, was predicted.

Sen. Barkley of Kentucky, Democratic leader, told reporters he had hope of getting the Senate to agree to a limitation of debate and expressed the opinion that Mr. Roosevelt's expression should hasten action.

On the other hand Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) an opponent of conscription said he thought no attempt would be made to cut off debate on a matter of this importance.

The President said yesterday that to put off the actual drafting of men might delay the whole defense program a year or two and he remarked that Congress had been considering the matter since June 20 and still was talking.

May Swing Balance
Opponents of conscription conceded that Mr. Roosevelt's assertion that he was personally and absolutely opposed to postponement of compulsory military training was likely to swing the balance against Maloney's proposal to delay conscription until a system of voluntary one-year enlistments could be tried.

Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) told reporters that it seemed obvious that the administration pressure would be exerted to get the bill through in its present form. As now pending, the measure would require the registration of all men from 21 through 30 years old making them subject to call to military service with some exemptions.

"I think the President's statement means that the Burke-Wadsworth bill will be passed," Walsh said.

Once he was offered a new Ford even up for "Shamrock," but he refused the offer. Gilles is now a week behind schedule. He has taken him 23 days to travel 1,700 miles.

Legion Discloses It Has Watched For Un-Americanism Here 2 Years

Secret Committee Cooperating with F. B. I., Commander Announces as Plan Spreads Over State.

Marion county's American Legion men for more than two years have been quietly carrying on an investigation of un-American activities in the city and county. It was revealed here today following an Associated Press announcement from Columbus that American Legion posts throughout Ohio will join in a listening campaign designed to detect un-American activities.

Legion men who have had connection with law enforcement bodies are members of the special committee of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162 of Marion. The committee known as the disaster and emergency organization committee was appointed about eight years ago. The membership is more or less secret and Commander M. E. Baldwin said this morning that even he did not know the entire personnel. Since first appointed the committee has continued as a permanent group the members working separately on reports of un-American activities and as a body only when called by the chairman.

Reports Names to F. B. I.
Secretly the committee members have compiled a list of city and county residents suspected of "fifth column" sympathies and have submitted the list to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for investigation. Commander Baldwin said. The complete list is known only to one or two members of the committee, having been compiled from the investigations made by the individual members.

Several years ago when Communists sought to demonstrate here, it was members of this Legion committee who went to the assistance of the sheriff and quietly but firmly ushered the party through the county, Commander Baldwin said.

As a disaster unit it was members of this group who organized and carried on the Legion's part in the Ohio valley flood relief drive several years ago.

The plan followed by Bird-McGinnis Post is virtually the same as that carried in this morning's press dispatch from Columbus.

According to the announcement of the plan each Legion commander will select a secret committee to be composed of retired police officers or former intelligence operators of the army and navy who are Legion members.

These "listeners" will be fact finders only and all information acquired will be kept strictly confidential. Names of persons suspected of un-American sympathies will not be revealed to any one except constituted authorities.

The program announced today was drafted by Martin V. Coffey of Middletown, William Mannham of Defiance and John T. Roberts of Willoughby to be followed by Legion posts in aiding state and federal authorities.

UPPER SANDUSKY, Aug. 24.—Elroy Gilles, 18, of Laurel, Mont., is stopping at the Richard Dickason farm west of here for a rest before continuing his journey by horseback to New York City. Gilles had expected to visit the World's Fair but now isn't sure he'll reach there in time.

Hungary, Rumania Call New Reserves As Parley Fails

By The Associated Press
TURNU-SEVERIN, Rumania, Aug. 24.—The Hungarian-Rumanian conference over Transylvania collapsed today.

The two delegations admitting failure to find a common ground for continuing the negotiations prepared to depart for Bucharest and Budapest. Hungary called up army reservists.

The collapse of the Axis-inspired attempt to arrive at a friendly settlement of Hungary's claims to the 35,000 square mile province of Transylvania, which Rumania has held since the World War, came after the Rumanians failed to give a satisfactory reply to a Hungarian demand for some concrete territorial concessions.

The Hungarians had demanded approximately two-thirds of the province.

Would Shift People
The Rumanians refused and offered to exchange minority populations instead.

The fact that several hundred thousand Hungarians live in Transylvania has been the focal point of the long Hungarian campaign for return of the province. Hungarian delegates were glum of expression as they left the hall where intermittent conferences had been in session for ten days. They hastened immediately to their Danube steam to return to Budapest.

The Rumanian delegates stayed to draft an official explanation of the conference failure.

Call Up Reserves
Stiffening of Rumanian's attitude toward the negotiations was seen in the calling up of army reserves and the appointment of a new chief and vice chief of the Rumanian general staff and the offer of five seats in the government to the anti-revisionist group of Julius Mann, the Peasant party leader.

The army appointees were under stood to oppose any cessation of Transylvania territory.

Mann, however, was understood to have rejected the proffered cabinet posts unless King Carol's new totalitarian party is dissolved.

At Craiova, meanwhile, where Rumanians are negotiating with Bulgarians over southern Dobruja, it was reported the Rumanians have proposed to cede all of the town of Silistra on the Danube, provided Bulgaria creates a free zone at the port of Balice on the Black sea for Rumania, with an international highway leading from it to the Rumanian Black sea port of Constanta.

Want Two Thirds
A Hungarian spokesman said his country had asked for about two-thirds of Transylvania's 35,000 square miles.

The differences of viewpoints brought a recess in negotiations earlier in the week and most observers looked for an agreement to disagree unless a compromise on principles for approach to the problem could be reached quickly.

HUNDREDS OF PLANES USED; HIT AT LONDON

Heavy Guns Exchange Salvoes Across Channel Amid Air Battle.

By The Associated Press
HUNDREDS of German bombers and fighter planes swarmed over southern England today in mass attacks and attempted two raids on the London area but British authorities said they were turned back by fighter planes.

Some bombs fell in one London suburb. They exploded in an open field and did no damage.

While the capital's anti-aircraft guns raised a wall of explosive steel around the city, British fighters challenged the raiders and were reported to have shot down one bomber and an escorting Messerschmitt.

A large formation of German planes approached the London area during the afternoon from the southeast and the explosion of bombs was heard distinctly in the heart of the city.

Met at the Gates
The Germans were challenged before they penetrated the city's defenses by a squadron of British Spitfires.

The afternoon attack followed one at 8:14 a. m. which sent Londoners on their way to work scurrying to cover. It likewise was fended off without damage officially reported.

Ramsgate, a little seaside town at the mouth of the Thames estuary was attacked by one group of 21 Nazi bombers. The British expressed belief their planes had been beaten off their real objective—London—and "look it out" of Ramsgate, which was badly battered.

Guns Used Again
At the height of the offensive the Germans began hammering at the Dover area, 22 miles across the channel from Calais, with big guns and British naval batteries set up ashore replied in a brisk counter attack.

A heavy barrage of anti-aircraft fire raged London with the heaviest flashes seen in the north-east.

The sound of heavy bombardment along the Thames estuary broad waterway to London was heard plainly in the heart of the city even before the alarm sirens stopped wailing.

Observers standing on rooftops in the northeastern outskirts of the city said screaming dogfights were raging overhead between the raiders and British fighters.

Millions Seek Cover
London's millions took cover for the second time at 3:43 p. m. (9:43 a. m. FST) after having been caught during the early morning rush hour at 8:24 a. m. by the first alarm.

The heavy firing faded after a few moments during the afternoon alarm and the drone of the planes gradually died away.

Shortly before the sirens screamed large numbers of German Dornier bombers and Messerschmitt fighters were reported coming over the southeast coast and were engaged by British fighters while Britain's own big guns laid down a counter-barrage against the French coast in reply to the German shelling of the Dover area.

Coastal patrols were fighting a running battle with the Nazi craft some coming over in groups of 55.

12th Since War
Today's second raid was the 12th alarm in the British capital since the outbreak of war.

During this attack German planes were over another southeast coast town and a third in the southwest.

The day's attacks followed a night of comparatively light German raids in which a few parachutes were dropped again in the heavily industrialized midlands.

Shell Kills Woman
Three German shells landed on the south Kent coast early in the bombardment, wrecking a house in Dover, killing a woman and injuring several persons.

Other casualties were reported from a town in East Anglia, where Nazi bombs dropped.

A communiqué, issued jointly by the air and home security, said a few German planes approached the London area, but did not get beyond the outskirts. At least three Nazi planes were reported shot down by British fighters returning.

MARKET AGAIN ON LOW ROAD

Main Reason Said To Be Doubts Over Fate of England.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 34—In another of the lowest markets in 22 years, leading stocks today tottered in an exceptionally narrow range.

The main excuse put forward by brokers for the inept performance was that traders generally feared the war news might become worse over the week-end.

While scattered favorites managed to close with modest plus signs, inconsequential declines were plentiful. Numerous pivots never sold and a wide assortment finished where they left off Friday.

Bulletins told of intensified Nazi air raids over England. Although hope remained high for the ultimate success of John Bull, question marks still were sufficiently strong to inspire considerable hesitancy among potential stock buyers. Lack of any selling insistence at the same time was attributed to growing brightness of the home business picture.

The fact the national tax program had run up against a snag in congress was seen as a flaw in the generally optimistic market picture.

Shares ahead at one time or another included Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Rubber, United Aircraft, U. S. Steel, Kennecott, Westinghouse, International Paper, preferred and Pennsylvania.

Behind now and then were General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Glenn Martin International, Nickel American, Smelting New York Central, Great Northern and Johns-Manville.

Bonds and commodities were unable to climb out of the rut.

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, August 25

SUNDAY'S horoscope accents spiritual, mystical and cultural activities with much gratification in such application. There are hints of untoward disastrous adventures connected with journeys, changes removals or in peculiar situations in which treachery or irregularity are strangely ominous. Refrain from all sorts of chances and hazards. Those whose birthday it is may have a year of upsets and upheavals both sudden and unpredictable. It would be wise to be cautious in travel and in all manner of changes. Be governed by intuitions rather than eccentric whims.

A child born on this day may be usually gifted in creative expression probably in music, poetry or art of a novel or modernistic form. It will have some erratic tendencies with leanings toward the easiest way—expediency rather than principle. Yet it will be spiritually inclined, strongly intuitive.

For Monday, August 26
MONDAY'S astrological forecast is rather conflicting with signs of drastic activity with matters moving at high tempo and in aggressive attack. Rash, tempestuous and impulsive conduct may have power to undermine very expansive and productive prospects in which superiors may be aggravated to non-cooperation. With restraint, composure and good judgment, there may be real achievement. Those whose birthday it is have prospects of some very constructive and productive activities during the year if they will but curb tendencies to rash, turbulent and overaggressive action. Well-directed force, enthusiasm and stimulated mind and energies could lead to expansion and real success. Strife, passion and over-indulgence spell defeat and grief.

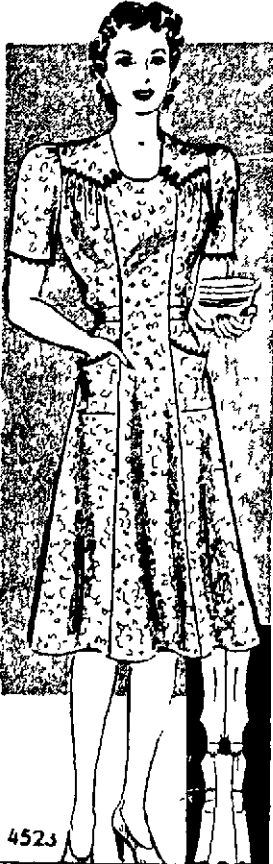

A child born on this day should be talented, forceful and ardent, with really fine mentality and intentions but it may stand in need of discipline and self control.

OHIO BOOKIES BUSY THOUGH WIRES GONE

Race Track Betting Hampered, But Not Killed.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, Aug. 24.—Like truth, the bookies' wires won't stay crushed to earth.

Although the telephone companies cut their lines direct to the race tracks, many in Ohio are still "gung along" as they showed today.

The customers are fewer. Police, pressed by the churches have put the line or garbling in the horse race betting establishments. Federal agents are reported to be checking up on compliance with federal court injunctions against the dissemination of race track news. Numerous smaller establishments have closed.

Not All Gone
But the man in Ohio's major cities who want to bet on horse races at tracks hundreds of miles away still can find takers in his home town, it appears.

An unidentified organization supplies the news by telephone to a headquarters near a large city. The headquarters relays the racing information to the major bookmakers and many of these in turn pass the news along to smaller betting parlors.

At least 100 bookmakers are reported still operating in downtown Cleveland.

Columbus once had about 40 bookmakers. Forty were raided last month and fined $200 each. Cincinnati reported their bookies were flourishing just about as usual except for the curtailed track edge.

Vest Pocket Style
Akron has about 10 places operating on a vest pocket basis despite police crusades. Toledo reported little change. A dozen places are operating in and about Youngstown. In parlor betting is taboo since police clamped on the lid. Results arrive at 10 to 15 minutes late. The number of establishments in Dayton has decreased from 150 to 30.

CERTIFICATION OFFICE OF WPA TO BE CLOSED
Marion county's WPA certification office on Marion street will be closed beginning Monday through next week while changes in procedure are worked out. Relief Director Frank S. Burns announced today it will reopen Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Relief food orders for the first half of September for city direct and work relief clients will be issued Friday, Aug. 30 from 8:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 1 to 4:30 p. m. The relief offices will be all closed on Labor day.

Mr. Burns commented that there is noticeable increase in requests for relief despite the seeming improvement in private employment. This is due largely to decreases in WPA rolls he said. Last WPA enrollment figure for the county was 558.

REV. ROOP IN WILLARD FOR CHURCH CONFERENCE
Rev. Carl V. Roop of First United Brethren church will go to Willard Monday for pre-conference sessions prior to the opening Tuesday of the annual Sandusky conference of the United Brethren church.

Rev. Roop is a member of the council of administration and of the boundary and finance committees. He also will sing with the conference male quartet.

Grover Thrush and Harry Fowler are the delegate and alternate respectively from First church.

Two Talks Set
Mr. McKees talk will follow the singing of a hymn. The Lost Chord by Miss Audrey Miller of Epworth will precede Mr. Brooks' talk.

The program will close with congregational singing of Now the Day is Over and benediction.

There will be no young people's service at.

Next Thursday the Christian Young People's union will have a picnic supper at Harrison Smith park at Upper Sandusky.

NAZARENE TENT MEETINGS TO CONTINUE NEXT WEEK
The tent meeting now under way at East Center street and Forest lawn boulevard under auspices of First Church of the Nazarene will continue through next week. Rev. W. E. Zimmerman, pastor, announced.

Rev. Frank Ruddy of Marion will be in charge of the preaching and Miss Carroll Sherrer of Marion will have charge of the children's service each night at 7:30. Midweek service of First church will be held at the tent.

Overflowing Joy

A SERMONETTE
By REV. LAWRENCE A. WOOD
Pastor Trinity Baptist Church

Text: John 15:11. "That your joy might be full."

SOME may think of the Christian life as hard and difficult. It is the very opposite to that for it is a life of happy experiences. If one does not find happiness in his Christian life it is because he has not yet entered upon all that God has for him. The Christian life is not limited by surrounding circumstances. His joy is for every one who will enter upon a life of fellowship with God through faith in the blood atonement made by Jesus Christ our Saviour. An enthusiastic gardener was continually talking about his garden and its flowers. He was visited by a friend who was surprised to find it a tiny back-yard plot of ground, and asked why so much enthusiasm over so small a garden. The gardener replied, "Look how high it is for it reaches up to heaven and my flowers are God's thoughts for me. His happiness was not determined by the size of his garden. Christian joy is never dependent upon surrounding things. Jesus promises it for every one who loves Him for its sake. These things have I spoken unto you that my joy might remain in you and that your joy might be full."

The joy of the Christian life comes from the consciousness of the believer that his sins are forgiven and that all is well between him and his Lord. There can be no joy till sin is removed and its power is broken. But when both the guilt and the power of sin are gone then the heart sings for joy. The ringing testimony in heard I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day. 2 Timothy 1:12

ANOTHER factor in this joy is the Christian's faith in the living Christ. This can be known only by experience. Christ is more real to him than anything else in life. He walks and talks with his Lord till it is heaven here below for he knows through experience what Jesus meant when He said "That your joy might be full."

Another reason why the Christian lives a happy life is the fact of the divine power which he knows is back of him. That power is sufficient to meet every demand that may be made upon the Christian. You have looked upon Niagara Falls and have felt the unmeasured power of that great flow of water. All the stored up energy of five great lakes comes rushing over the Falls. In like manner there is back of the Christian the infinite power of God. What a satisfaction it is to know I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me. Philippians 4:13. That power is sufficient to meet every situation that may arise in the life of the Christian. It is equal to every emergency and temptation and gives peace and assurance at all times. There may be some who do not have this experience of peace and joy but that is due to their failure to draw upon the resources made available for them by their Lord.

THE fourth factor in the Christian's joy is his fellowship with his Lord. Christ lives in all those who know Him by faith. It is this fellowship which keeps the Christian's heart singing, waiting the day when he shall behold his Lord face to face and be "changed into His likeness." Jesus said in regard to His own relationship with the Father "I do always those things that please Him. He said to the disciples "You are My friends if you do the things that I command you." And He added "These things have I spoken unto you that My joy might remain in you and that your joy might be full." The Christian has overflowing joy because of assurance of forgiveness, power, and fellowship. It is for every one who believes in Jesus as his personal Saviour from sin and who lives in fellowship with God through the indwelling of the Holy Spirit.

Mind is the topic for the Sunday morning services at the First Church of Christ Scientist. The golden text will be taken from Daniel 2:20. Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever for wisdom and insight into the wise and knowledge to them that know understanding.

The lesson will be interpreted from a correlative passage from the Christian Science text book by Mary Baker Eddy as follows: Mind The only I or us the only spirit soul divine principle substance life truth love the one God not that which is in man but the divine principle or God of whom man is the full and perfect expression deity which outlines but is not outlined.

WHEAT PILING UP ON FARMS

Growers Holding Grain Off Market To See What Happens.

CHICAGO Aug. 24—Encouraged to hold wheat off the market because the government loan guarantee is far above the price farmers today are piling up the crop supplies on the largest scale since inception of the ever-normal granary program.

Throughout the wheat belt government lending offices were busy receiving and checking applications of farmers eligible to receive loans. Even many who are ineligible or do not intend to request loans have been storing grain temporarily, waiting to see what affect impounding of large supplies will have on prices. As a result storage facilities in terminals have been taxed.

Held Up Grain

A year ago amid threats of European war thousands of farmers held grain off the market. When prices rose farmers who followed this policy profited. Practically all of the more than 160,000,000 bushels impounded were turned at a profit early in 1940. Holding grain off the market has been a profitable market strategy at the lowest level.

Grain men pointed out that inflation is different than it was a year ago. A price rise may not develop this season. Lending operations are substantially ahead of last year and some estimates are that 250,000,000 to 400,000,000 bushels may be impounded. It is thought more conservative traders regard the latter figure as too extreme in that it would involve more than half the new crop.

The total supply is estimated at 1,045,000,000 bushels compared with 1,000,000,000 a year ago. If domestic consumption equals that of last year 679,000,000 bushels will be required including about 200,000,000 fed to livestock and used for seed. This would leave 466,000,000 bushels that could be impounded until the 1941 crop becomes available but this would not provide for nominal exports.

The 484,000,000 bushels carried over from the old crop are enough to meet normal flour requirements for about 7 months, traders estimated.

Keeping large quantities of grain off the market has diminished hedging pressure. At the same time consuming interests have been encouraged to buy on price dips. This was reflected in farming prices this week.

Mosquito's Preferred List

IN THESE early autumn days when the hum of anopheles is heard in the still evening air, the plan goes up—"These mosquitoes just love me better than anything on earth." Don't flatter yourself. As a choice of diet you rank quite low in the mosquito's preferred list. Mosquitoes head the list of the kind of blood the mosquito likes then cows then pigs, then dogs then you then chickens. These conclusions were arrived at by government entomologists who subjected the blood in a gorged mosquito to precipitation tests which make it possible to tell what animal it came from.

Do incubator babies attain full development or are they likely to be undersized?

Infants born at seven to eight months have such a low vitality that if they are handled in the ordinary way they survive but a few weeks. The incubator takes the place of the mother's womb, poorly of course but for practical purposes in a good percentage of cases effectively. It provides an even temperature and other protection. The two other problems of the premature infant are to keep it breathing and to provide nourishment. The breathing center is not well developed in prematurity because such infants are not prepared yet for atmospheric existence. Sucking and swallowing reflexes are also at low ebb and digestion poor so feeding is always difficult to manage.

If these are overcome however the premature infant develops quite naturally.

The influences that make for undersize or produce midgets are due to constitutional heredity, cause not necessarily connected with prematurity.

NOW is the TIME to MODERNIZE-REMODEL-BUILD your own HOME

Modern Builders Put Iron Work To Better Uses

More practical iron work has been used in the construction of modern homes than in years past. Day modern homes use metal porch railings, gates, fences, lighting fixtures and as a decorative trim. The problem of rust, however, remains the same. Iron and metal work, unless properly protected, needs paint to protect it from corrosion. It is necessary to apply a primer coat, full body. This is followed by two coats of good paint in selected color. If primer coat has been applied at the place of manufacture, only the last two coats are needed. Painting iron work and various household ornaments may be included as part of a complete house-painting job or undertaken separately.

WELLS MAY PROVE COSTLY TO BUILDER

The home builder who contemplates obtaining his water supply from a well rather than water mains is reminded by experts that the danger of pollution is always great in the case of wells and that they provide little or no fire protection. In addition, it is held that the cost of construction of the well and of installing the necessary pumping system is usually as great or greater than the per lot cost of water mains.

$1,575 Houses Built To Help Solve Problem for Community in Kentucky

Federal Housing Administrator Stewart McDonald has announced that gratifying progress is being made in the campaign to provide livable small homes at prices within reach of families with small incomes. "Among the latest indications of this progress," he said, "is the information from our Louisville office that a group of 40 houses at Owensboro, Ky., has been built and sold, complete with lot, at $1,575 for the three-room houses and $1,750 for the four-room houses. "All except the model houses were sold before construction started, and the enterprise was such a success that the same company has started another group of 60 houses and a rival developer is planning a group of 40 more to sell in the same price range. "How far the building industry has progressed is shown by the fact that $6,000 was regarded as a low price in many areas when the FHA was established six years ago. And when the FHA booklet, 'Principles of Planning Small Houses' was published in 1936, with designs for houses costing around $2,500 to build, many experienced developers thought us visionary. "It was pointed out that these $1,575 houses are soundly-built livable homes. The advertisements offering them for sale carried the following statement: "Buyer Protection: House to be 100 per cent inspected by Federal Housing Administration before conveying to purchaser. House to be built in strict accordance with FHA specifications and local building code. "Variable Exterior Each of these houses occupies a lot 50 by 89 feet, it was stated, has an exterior varying somewhat from its neighbors, is about 25 feet from the house on each side, and is set well back from the street. Also, each has a double roof of asphalt shingles and roof-felt over sheathing, finished oak hardwood floors, sand-finish tinted plaster walls, gas heater and 30-gallon hot water tank, built-in bathtub, drain-type kitchen sink and built-in cabinet, metal angle lath at all corners and openings to prevent plaster cracks, and ample closet space. The four-room house also has an extra utility room, large enough for storage, laundry, or other purposes. All the houses are eligible for FHA-insured financing.

MODERN CONVENIENCES ENHANCE LOG CABINS

A well-planned and well-maintained log home frequently has all of the rustic charm and simplicity that characterized early American woodcraft, but these qualities must be combined with today's standards of convenience to be ideal summer or year-around houses.

Building Quiz

Q. How should a wide opening in a partition which supports the joists of an upper floor be framed?
A. A satisfactory method for framing such an opening is to double the plate, header, and door studs and set the headers on edge. If the opening is very wide it should be trussed. This is accomplished by bracing the studs which rest on the header with short diagonal members. Such a truss distributes the super-imposed loads to the supporting studs. Unless proper construction is used over a wide partition opening sagging of the structural members over the opening will cause severe plaster cracks and open the joints of the door trim.

Q. What kind of pigment is recommended for producing colored concrete?
A. Mineral oxide pigments are the most satisfactory for coloring concrete. Other pigments such as organic dyes have a tendency to fade and may reduce the strength of the concrete. There are two kinds of mineral oxides: natural oxides that come directly from the mines, and manufactured pigments which are prepared especially for use in concrete. Natural mineral pigments which cost less per pound than manufactured pigments are recommended where dull colors are desired; for bright colors, manufactured pigments will produce the best results.

Faulty Gutters and Downspouts Often Damaging

Leaky and corroded gutters and downspouts often cause serious building damage. They may result in ruined and unsightly walls and ceilings as well as cause considerable deterioration of exterior materials. Experienced workmen can easily and quickly repair or install new flashing over door and window openings and roof intersections, around the chimney, pipe vents, and other openings and projections. At the same time they can clean gutters and downspouts of dirt and litter and repair them or install new ones if necessary. Further deterioration of metals which are subject to corrosion may be retarded by the use of suitable paint.

MAIL SLOTS MUST FIT POSTAL REGULATIONS

Builders should consider not only the mailman but the future occupant of the home as well when they place mail slots in front doors. Postmasters are not required to deliver mail to any residence where certain slot-location requirements have not been met. The United States official postal guide has this to say about the location of letter and mail slots: "Patrons of the city or village delivery service must provide mail receptacles. A receptacle may be either a suitable box or slot cut in the front door. If slots are provided, they must be eight by one and one-half inches in size and placed not less than 30 inches from the finished floor line."

SMALL HOMES NEED PROPER ORIENTATION

Place Sun and Wind in Right Windows.

Orientation, a requisite of the modern small home, has been described as the process of "putting the sun and wind in the right windows." Experts say it is difficult to set any hard-and-fast rules to apply to all cases. It might be said that the living room and master bedroom should have southern exposure and the dining room a south-eastern exposure. In most sections of the country prevailing breezes are from the south and west, and it is desirable to have sunlight and breezes in the living room during the whole of the year. This rule cannot be carried out completely in the small one-story house. If the living room is given a southern exposure, it is practically impossible to give both the master bedroom and the dining room southern exposures. Faced with such a problem, the architect or builder finds it necessary to compromise. Either he gives the southern exposure to the master bedroom and living room, placing the dining room and kitchen and other bedrooms to the north, or he must place other bedrooms on the north side in order to give both living room and dining room southern exposures.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADIE GARRISON

Bill and Hank Learn They Are To Leave Boarding School for Life in a New York Hotel

Oh! Yes please I told the head master and while I waited I hear the voices of the boys I put my hand over the mouthpiece of the telephone and spoke. Katherine and Lillian who still were standing close beside me.

Scarlet fever epidemic in the town I murmured. They are losing the school and sending the boys home.

There is a tradition in our household that nothing ever ruffles Katherine's composure but to my surprise she cried out at my news as any emotional mother seeing her children threatened might have done.

Bill and Hank must not come here she said until all danger of possible infection is over. Scarlet fever! Elish and the small boys. We mustn't risk it!

There was authority as well as emotion in her voice an authority which I welcomed and to which I assented because of the rare skill which she brings to the care of my children.

We won't have to I reassured her and then I heard Bill's voice affectionate apologetic—and a bit nervous.

Auntie Madge? I'm sorry you have to have all this bother but I guess you'll have to have us come home. But will that be safe with the kids?

My plan for the boys hazy and sketchy was not yet completed in my mind and I spared for time while the putting of the question whose possible negative answer I had so feared when I had heard that the head master wished to speak to me.

I'll manage that I said "and I'll tell you my plan for you in a minute. But first tell me—only be careful what you say—Is Hank all right you know what I mean?

Yes I know. Bill said slowly and I knew he was choosing his words with a view to eavesdrop-pers. He's perfectly all right.
Cough much better and—everything else okay.

I'm so glad I said "Now here is my plan for you. You can't make connections tonight anyway
so when you get to New York go directly to the Lansfield."

Free of School Rules

"Oh boy the Lansfield our usually quiet Bill emitted with the zeal at getting away from rigid disciplinary rules to the freedom of hotel life which only a preparatory school student knows.

Yes I reiterated the Lansfield—I think to our old suite but if not they'll have reservations for you. Perhaps you'd better stay three or four days and have a good time going to the movies and seeing the city.

Bill did not interrupt me again
but his distinctly audible deep drawn breath was more eloquent than words.

I'll have a good physician come and check up on you and see you once a day. I went on so there'll be no chance of anything developing.

You don't mean—for Hank?"

—his voice was alarmed but he almost whispered the words.
No no I answered just to reassure him. There'll be no chance of scarlet fever developing. And we'll see that the hotel has money for you to draw upon within reason.
How does that program strike you?

It's a wonderful plan he answered. And I suppose it's better we don't come home at first, although it would be swell to see you all. There's just one thing—that money business — me the trustee. I'm afraid

His voice trailed off and I knew he was thinking of Hank's possible jealousy. I gave a mental shudder to the delicate feeling for the fitness of things which the boy possesses before answering his question.

I do not mean that you should not give Hank money for his personal use. I told him. But one if you have to manage things and you're the older I'll write you a letter right away and send it special delivery. You ought to get it tomorrow morning. Now Hank near you?

Approximately 2,000 Witness Closing Harness Card at County Fair

Spectators Treated to 17-Heat Show; Richwood, Kenton Horses Win.

By CHARLES HOSTETTER
Marion Star Sports Editor

Approximately 1,500 to 2,000 people, comprising the largest crowd of the three day meeting, witnessed yesterday afternoon's closing harness race program at the Marion county fairgrounds.

They were treated to a 17-heat card that lasted five and one half hours. Six heats had been postponed from Thursday's show, which was abbreviated by rain. Nine originally had been scheduled for Friday and in two events added heats were necessary to decide the race and trophy winners.

Spectacular Card
The card lacked nothing in spectacular entertainment. Spectators saw a near-accident when the sulky wheels of Single Dile and Gullint became entangled. The incident occurred as they went into the first turn in the second heat of the 2:22 race for a hundred yards or more the pair raced as a team. Reinsmen France and Smick fought to free their sulkies and it was their capable handling of the situation that prevented a serious accident.

Driver Fogwell aboard Worthing Dillon became the second rider to incur the wrath of Starter Harry Hartman. He drew a $10 fine for beating the pole horse to the barrier in the first trip of the 2:22 trot. Unperturbed however Fogwell went on to finish 3-1-1 to cop the race for the Kenton owner, Mrs. Roy Roof.

Horses owned in this section were prominent among the winners. There were representatives of Richwood, Johnston, Columbus, Marion and Kenton stables among the steeds that went to the post. Many of them came through gloriously to win a bit of change for their owners.

Stock Parade Held
The card opened at 12:30 and except for a brief intermission during the annual stock parade continued without interruption until 6 p. m. Seven heats of the previous day's program were run preceding the stock show. Entertainment was provided by the neatly uniformed LaFue High school band directed by Richard Downs. The 40-piece ensemble also led the parade.

With the fair's largest crowd on hand the grandstand, naturally enough drew its heaviest attendance. Hundreds of others lined the home stretch fence on both sides of the track. Favorable but somewhat cool weather brought out coats and jackets. The crowd was well handled and only when the racing lapped over into the start of the evening performance was there a congestion of pedestrians.

The William Hartuff race for 216 paces Hotel Marion race for 216 trotters and Low Price killing Stallion race for 219 paces, in which single heats had been run Thursday were completed at the opening of the session. A fourth heat was necessary in the Hartuff race after H. Guy, Lee Beaser and Countpatch each had won in the three previous trips around the oval.

Wins in Run-off
Counterpatch had won the initial heat Thursday in 2:11. Lee Beaser narrowly took the second in 2:13, finishing neck-and-neck with the place horse, March Guy. The latter stepped the mile.
